

Epidemic at Salisbury and Canaan – Many Dead

Disease at Canaan and Salisbury.
A disorder, called an inflammatory pleurisy, prevails at Canaan and Salisbury, in this state, and has carried off within a short time a considerable number of inhabitants. Amongst them are, William Stuart, Elizabeth Brown, Mrs. Hollabird, Abraham Burnse, D. Willoughby, George White, George Cleveland, George Post, Nathaniel Newell, Mrs. Ensign, Mr. Webb, Rebecca Hunt, Mr. White, sen. Mr. and Mrs. Russell, D. Foster, Mr. Catter, Mr. Calhoun and daughter, Dr. Plumb. Dr. Peet, Cornelius Knickerbocker, Mrs. Dean at the Falls, Wm. Trefferd, Mr. Cary, a child of C. Hosford's, a child of Rufus Clark's, and a son of Gideon Butler's. On Tuesday last from 40 to 50 were sick, many of them dangerous.
[Mirror.]

[12 May 1812 – Connecticut Herald]